Until recently this "Goldilocks factor" was almost completely ignored by scientists but science is at last coming to grips with the enigma of why the universe is so uncannily fit for life. Throughout history prominent thinkers have sought a deeper hidden reality and consulted shamans, mystics and priests.

Dr Hugh Murdoch: The Goldilocks Enigma — Why is the ...

Paul Davies's new book The Goldilocks Enigma wrestles with some of the deepest philosophical issues around, but concentrates on one in particular: 'why is the world the way it is?' He approaches this question through a discussion of a hot topic in theoretical physics that most scientists refer to as the 'Anthropic Principle', but which Davies chooses to label the 'Goldilocks Enigma'. This refers to the fact that the physical laws that govern the universe are 'just right' for the development ...

Cosmic Jackpot, also published under the title The Goldilocks Enigma: Why is the Universe Just Right for Life?, is a 2007 non-fiction book by physicist and cosmologist Paul Davies, describing the idea of a fine-tuned universe.

Cosmic Jackpot - Wikipedia

His book, The Goldilocks Enigma [1], examines the extraordinary 'bio-friendliness' (i.e. the fine-tuning) of the universe. In ten chapters and nearly 300 pages he explains the mysteries of the universe with singular clarity. However, it is the nine pages at the end of the book that I would like to draw to your attention. The Goldilocks Enigma actually is a pretty good book—a far better book than I'd expected going in. I'd seen Paul Davies on the Discovery Channel in 2011, discussing with physicist Sean Carroll, and some others, whether evidence from physics contradicts the hypothesis of a divine creator of the universe.
